

JSK provided design, permitting and surveying services for this stormwater retrofit project within the City of Winter Haven. The project was originally constructed to help relieve flooding issues within the urban community.

Polk County Ave “V” NW Pond Water Quality Improvement

Inwood, Florida

Before

After

Client:

Polk County BoCC
Parks and Natural Resources
Conner Updike, PE
P.O. Box 9005, Drawer
PW06
Bartow, FL 33831-9005
863-534-7377
ConnerUpdike@polk-county.net

Location:

Inwood, Florida

Completion Date:

2014

Cost:

$136,500

Working together with the Polk County Parks and Natural Resources Division JSK is providing complete surveying, engineering, permitting and construction management services for this stormwater quality improvement project located in Winter Haven, Florida. This project was designed to help relieve flooding issues within this urban community. The project involved converting existing ponds from dry to wet detention systems to allow for enhanced landscaping, improved water quality treatment and neighborhood esthetics.

The services we provided include the following:

- Civil/Environmental Engineering: complete design, permitting and surveying services to include: utility coordination, right-of-way use permitting, stormwater pollution prevention, grading and drainage system design and permitting, preparation of construction plans and technical standards manual, detailed landscape plan, opinion of probable construction costs, construction management and administration.

